SUMMER WANDERINGS

June 16th. — [illegible] minutes before I quit the Walla Walla valley finally. The [illegible] grown [illegible] called by the [illegible] of Saints [illegible] growing [illegible] this locality. Waiilatpu [illegible] name of the Whitman mission [illegible] Mr. Ellis [illegible] whose [illegible] over with the [illegible] grass [illegible] that the termination [illegible] Indian word [illegible] Waiilatpu would [illegible] rye grass people. He says Dr. Whitman [illegible] different [illegible] of this [illegible] adopted the spelling now [illegible] but owing to the difficulty [illegible] interest [illegible] the Board of Foreign Missions suffered it to remain as first written.

Lewiston is a small and at present a very dull town, situated [illegible] at the junction of the Clearwater with the Snake, and between the two rivers. [illegible] high bluff [illegible] shore of [illegible] the place from the [illegible] appearance of [illegible] which dead levels and [illegible] In a [illegible] whatever [illegible] Dalles and Walla Walla, Lewiston was at first considered hopeless as a soil [illegible] the last two or three [illegible] enterprising [illegible] taken [illegible] cultivation [illegible] prospect of gratifying [illegible]. Of the [illegible] the only one which [illegible] particularly was the depot for pack trains [illegible] taken care of [illegible] upon the payment of [illegible] everywhere else the Catholics have a mission to which in this instance Protestants are compelled to send their children or allow them to remain out of school. If I did not feel that this is not the place for such an essay I should feel tempted to write on [illegible] the singular apathy with which the Protestant world of [illegible] regards the education of the young in schools where freedom of thought is [illegible] as sinful. How many Protestant American children — girls more particularly — are now growing up who will believe in the Papal infallibility? And if the women of this generation or the next believe it, who is going to save their children from the [illegible] faith? What is it [illegible] being worth a pound of cure.

The only place of historical interest to visit in the neighborhood of Lewiston is the Indian Agency at Lapwai, and I was indebted to the courtesy of Mr. Levi Ankeny for an opportunity of seeing it. The ride out to the Agency taken in the early morning when there is a fresh breeze blowing over the high prairie is very delightful. The elevated [illegible] about Lewiston is clothed in a bountiful crop of grass [illegible] tracts of which were just being mown, making excellent hay. Here as everywhere I have traveled east of the Cascades [illegible] flowers in the same profusion; the same [illegible] the prairie hen and grouse and curlew [illegible] bird, the [illegible] its nest swinging from the branches of the cottonwood in the vicinity of the Agency.

The little valley of the Lapwai is exceedingly pretty. The effect is picture-like seen from the hills bordering it, with the military post and the Agency nestled [illegible] own nook not far from each other. This [illegible] the scene of early missionary labor under Mr. Spalding. Here Mrs. Spalding, [illegible] of the most devoted [illegible] missionaries of the A. B. F. M. in Oregon, taught Indian women [illegible] for eleven years [illegible] savage whites. Smaller [illegible] is hoped her works do follow her.

The Interpreter — an indispensable man at the Agency — is Mr. Perrin Whitman, nephew of Dr. Marcus Whitman, of honored memory. He has here a pleasant home and a cheerful family of his own, while the Indians look up to him as the only person who can represent them properly; therefore his position [illegible] probably a permanent one. Mr. Whitman was kind enough to show me about the grounds, pointing out each place of special interest; among them the old Mission building, now fallen into decay, and the new mission church [illegible] Lyons [illegible] which will soon be nothing better than a ruin, as its massive stone walls have no covering. Uncle Sam [illegible] natured relative to all [illegible] many of his nephews to set up expensive monuments to themselves out of his [illegible] at the same time for [illegible]

Here, however, was [illegible] stupendous piece of nonsense [illegible] buildings [illegible] enlightened institutions for the use of the average aborigine. The Nez Perces have always been the [illegible] good Indians of the Northwest; and they certainly are much better than their neighbors [illegible] but to regard them as civilized or half civilized, or to expect them to be [illegible] is an error. I have forgotten what the Nez Perce [illegible] facilities for the [illegible] and that there are at present a few in the school at the Agency. It is true that they cultivate a little ground [illegible] They parade themselves in their blankets of red or white [illegible] Some of the [illegible] fellows [illegible] young women [illegible] pretty. The latter [illegible] are too indolent [illegible] decently [illegible] Mr. Whitman's [illegible]

After [illegible] Mr. Whitman took me [illegible] chief. He is rather [illegible] man with a good face of the Indian type [illegible] His manner [illegible] copy [illegible] talked with Lewis and Clarke [illegible] smile [illegible] Lewis and Clarke [illegible] country. He [illegible] have been [illegible] claims to [illegible] explorers. His father who kept their horses through the winter while they explored the Columbia to its mouth.

On asking him the meaning of hoos-koos kie, the name Lewis and Clarke gave to the Clearwater, he explained in Nez Perce to Mr. Whitman that Lewis and Clarke misapprehended the words of the Indians [illegible] this river and [illegible] it was the [illegible] what was the [illegible] river [illegible] If it ever had a name it was forgotten, and thus directly the interview ended. It is remarkable that so many of the rivers of this country are [illegible] that the [illegible]

[illegible] meaning of Lapwai I was informed by Mr. Whitman that [illegible] people and that the Lapwai [illegible] really is [illegible] Nez Perces. The former tribe [illegible] buffalo [illegible] hence the distinction. The habits of the tribe were essentially different, as they are [illegible] habits of those who live by hunting from those who live by fishing and root-digging.

There is a conflict of claims upon the old mission ground which is likely to [illegible] When Congress passed an act [illegible] square to each of the missionary establishments in Oregon [illegible] settlers at [illegible] missions in the upper country from the [illegible] of that act, for from the breaking out of the Cayuse war up to 1858 that country was closed against settlement by military order. Thus it happened that while the Methodist missions west of the mountains were enjoying the bounty of the government, the A. B. F. M. [illegible] dispossessed. However, when Washington Territory [illegible] set off from Oregon [illegible] also passed [illegible] Spalding [illegible] claim [illegible] buildings. In opposition to this Mr. Spalding, as agent for the A. B. F. M., sold the claim to a private party, and [illegible] the conflict. The law on the subject is very much mixed. I think if I were an advocate I should like such a case. Whether it is [illegible] versus [illegible] or versus Washington Territory, or versus private individual, seems difficult to determine. Meanwhile Mr. Spalding thinks he ought to have a claim as a settler, and is about going to Washington [illegible] If he gets his claim in the Lapwai valley his worldly affairs will need little further attention, for the land is held at a high valuation. I should have been more precise [illegible] to have stated that the Lapwai [illegible] to the Clearwater, a beautiful river [illegible] at the agency. The old [illegible] building is upon the south bank of the Clearwater not far from the junction. A fine [illegible] has grown [illegible] along the border of the old mill race constructed by Spalding and Gray [illegible] years ago. The spot must be much prettier now than formerly, owing to [illegible] state of cultivation, and certainly [illegible] pleasant impression on my mind than Waiilatpu.

The next notable point of attraction for visitors about Lewiston is the lake. About twenty miles [illegible] possibly [illegible] from town is a small lake [illegible] where trout abound, and pleasure parties delight to go. It was [illegible] fortune to reach that celebrated [illegible] place on this my first visit to Lewiston. It is in reserve for me when [illegible] the [illegible] common pleasures of travel and sight-seeing. A pleasure which I did enjoy, however, was an elegant little dinner with Mrs. [illegible] and a few friends, after which there were seats on the piazza in the moonlight for the party, with cigars for the gentlemen, and flowers of poetry and wit and merriment for whoever liked to partake.

[illegible] Lewiston [illegible] the extreme height [illegible]

The weather was excessively warm during my three days stay in Lewiston, and my kind entertainers Judge Kelly [illegible] the appearance of a little cloud no bigger than a man's hand [illegible] sand [illegible] According [illegible] afternoon just after the arrival of the [illegible] steamer we had one. First [illegible] in full force, lifting the loose sands of the streets [illegible] aperture of every house. Doors and windows were hastily closed [illegible] left [illegible] with heat in preference to being suffocated with sand. Before night fortunately the clouds [illegible] Oregon [illegible] As I was returning [illegible] I appreciated the blessing of [illegible] the passage. There was considerable rain during the night and next day [illegible] the storm followed us, proving [illegible] destructive [illegible] Umatilla [illegible] welcome everywhere it fell east of the Cascades.

On the morning of departure from [illegible] I stood on the steamer's deck for a parting glimpse of Mount Hood [illegible] was [illegible] from [illegible] Mount Hood [illegible] Dalles [illegible]

The Humboldt Branch Railroad

[illegible] OF [illegible] WILLIAMS.

U. S. SENATE CHAMBER,
Washington, [illegible] 17, 1870.

[illegible]

I have [illegible] copy of the [illegible] containing extract from [illegible] of Representatives [illegible] of Nevada and Smith of Oregon, attacking me in a [illegible] manner for which I saw proper to [illegible] reference to the Humboldt railroad. Waiving all matters of a personal nature [illegible] I make the following statement, which [illegible] may be [illegible] fairness.

Most of the people interested suppose that the existing contest in the last session of Congress about railroad matters in Oregon was over the question as to whether the West Side Company or the East Side Company, so called, should have the land granted by the Act of 1866 to aid in the construction of the Oregon and California road, but the real contest was as to whether or not the grant of 1866 should be abandoned or defeated, and in lieu thereof a new grant obtained for a railroad running from the Big Bend of the Humboldt [illegible] By professing great zeal for the West Side Company was one way in which the schemers pursued this object, for they knew [illegible] who took pains to inform themselves upon the subject [illegible] the land specifically to either company would be defeated and thus the way made clear for the Humboldt project. [illegible] the grant for the Oregon and California road, which according to the decision of the Secretary of the Interior had lapsed [illegible] multiplied [illegible] issue between the two companies [illegible] of the parties concerned [illegible] Humboldt [illegible] suggested to me that I should [illegible] it with pretending to support the grant of 1866, which I refused to do, and without aid from my colleagues and against a tremendous pressure I defeated the plan [illegible] to the State [illegible] grant of 1866.

I have favored and helped to pass through the Senate a bill to aid in the construction of a railroad from Portland by way of the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue river valleys to California, and also a bill to aid in the construction of a road from Salt Lake to the Columbia river, to both of which the Pengra [illegible] has been steadily antagonized [illegible] interested in the Humboldt [illegible] Salt Lake and Columbia river [illegible] and without any constant and almost [illegible] support that enterprise, so desirable to the people of Eastern Oregon, as far as the Senate is concerned would long ago have been [illegible]

When Mr. Pengra brought his Humboldt project before Congress he was very determined that it should run on the east side of the Cascade mountains to Eugene City, but as we had no assurance [illegible] that anything would be done with the Oregon and California grant, I insisted with Mr. [illegible] that the road should cross [illegible] so as to insure railroad facilities to the Umpqua and Rogue river valleys [illegible] controversy ended but [illegible] road should cross the [illegible] the exact language of the bill [illegible] the Klamath Lakes [illegible] it was reported from the [illegible] Railroad Committee. When it was found that this bill would not pass [illegible] Mr. Corbett [illegible] confident [illegible] the grant of 1866 would fail [illegible] the Senate a bill [illegible] the line of the road as follows: From a point on the Central Pacific Railroad [illegible] the North Bend of the Humboldt river in the State of Nevada [illegible] Cascade range of mountains [illegible] Klamath Lakes and thence [illegible]

[illegible] the Committee of [illegible] Mr. Fitch brought to me a bill which [illegible] to report from the Committee [illegible] substitute for the [illegible] Mr. Corbett's [illegible] in which the alignment of the road [illegible] From a point on the Central Pacific Railroad at or near [illegible] east of the North Bend of the Humboldt river in the State of Nevada by the nearest eligible [illegible] point at or near Eugene City [illegible] Willamette valley. I [illegible] and reported this substitute to the Senate.

When I made this report I had no idea or intimation that the California and Oregon road [illegible] near the boundary [illegible] State [illegible] Cascade mountains, but not very long thereafter I learned [illegible] that it was the intention of the Central Pacific Company to run the road which they [illegible] building [illegible] the Pitt river [illegible] Humboldt [illegible] Goose lake valley and thence to Eugene City. [illegible] anybody can see that this plan [illegible] not only deprive the Umpqua and Rogue river valleys of any east [illegible] deprive them of a road at all.

[illegible] a road from Eugene City with its [illegible] parallel [illegible] from Eugene City directly [illegible] connection with the Central Pacific [illegible] gentleman [illegible] that it was to divert [illegible] the southern boundary of the State.

[illegible] the bill [illegible] Senate [illegible] the Central [illegible] after the bill [illegible] the following correspondence between the Vice President of the Central [illegible] Company and myself [illegible]

[illegible] STREET, NEW YORK,
May 10, 1870.

Hon. Geo. H. Williams, Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir: I have just been shown Senate Bill [illegible] introduced by Senator Corbett March 11th, with your amendments reported April 29th, and I am quite sure that no company would build the [illegible] road under such a grant. I certainly would [illegible] undertake to build it with [illegible] any [illegible] accept the grant with the restrictions imposed by the Bill as amended.

If we could get a fair grant for a road from the north bend of the Humboldt to some point at or near Portland, the route to be selected by the [illegible] I have no doubt but that the Central and [illegible] companies would unite and build [illegible] within three years from the passage of the Act.

If you [illegible] a bill making such grant it [illegible] would be very much to the [illegible] railroad facilities [illegible]

I remain truly yours,
C. P. HUNTINGTON.

Washington, May 12th, 1870.

My Dear Sir: I am in the receipt of your letter of the 10th inst., and in answer have to say that I reported Senate Bill 112 in the form and with the restrictions agreed upon by Mr. Fitch and Mr. Pengra, who are understood here to represent the Company named in the Bill. I have been and am willing to support the Bill without any restrictions as to the sale of the lands granted [illegible] route, with one exception, but it seems to me a Company seeking a grant [illegible] impose such restrictions as they choose with [illegible] the passage of their Bill. [illegible] pledges to my constituents, however [illegible] me to insist that the road should turn into Southern Oregon, and to show the [illegible] this course I ask you to consider the following:

First. The Oregon and California Company are now engaged in the construction of a road from [illegible] to the Southern boundary of the State, and I am assured that such road will be completed with all possible dispatch unless a grant should be made for a road direct from Humboldt to Eugene City on the east side of the Cascade mountains, in which event I have the best of reasons for believing that said road will terminate at Eugene City.

Second. To run the road from the Humboldt to Rogue river valley would be a shorter and less expensive route than any other, while it would accommodate the Goose and Klamath Lake countries and also the populous valleys of the Rogue and Umpqua rivers, all of which, by a direct line from the Humboldt to Eugene City, would be left mostly, if not altogether, without any railroad facilities.

Third. Considering that over the Humboldt and Rogue river road when made the transportation and travel of all Oregon and the country north would go to the east until the completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and also the value of the land along the route, it seems to me its advantages are sufficient to induce any enterprising company to engage in its construction.

Fourth. It was agreed upon at the last session of Congress by all parties concerned, including the Central Pacific Company, as I was informed, that the Humboldt road should cross the Cascades near the Klamath lake so as to penetrate Southern Oregon west of the mountains, and with a provision to that effect the bill was reported from the Pacific Railroad Committee, and this is all I propose to do by the pending bill.

I am sorry that I cannot fully adopt your views [illegible] your clearness of [illegible] see that I cannot avoid advocating a railroad connection with the east that will accommodate the people of the Southern as well as of the Northern part of the State.

Yours very truly,
GEO. H. WILLIAMS.

C. P. HUNTINGTON, Esq.,
No. [illegible] William street, New York.

When I found, contrary to my expectation, that the programme was to run the California and Oregon road on the east side of the Cascade mountains to Eugene City, I changed the substitute so as to make it in substance like the original bill, to which, at the time of its introduction, Mr. Pengra and all parties agreed. This is the head and front of my offending. All that is said about the advantages of competing lines is a mere blind. [illegible] that the purpose is to crush out and destroy the Oregon and California road, and if the people of the State, being fully advised, can allow it to be done or not, as they please. I have quarreled with friends and subjected myself to shameful abuse in trying to secure a railroad to the people of the Southern part of the State. I have made the fight for the most part single handed and alone.

[illegible] bill is still pending, and whether the Umpqua and Rogue river valleys have a railroad or not remains to be decided at the next session of Congress. All of the Nevada delegation and both of my colleagues, with the Union and Central Pacific Railroad companies, are in favor of a road on the east side of the mountains and terminating in the Willamette valley. I am the only person in Congress from the Pacific coast opposing it. Whether my opposition causes the bill will pass [illegible] or complaints. I fully recognize the right of the people of Jackson, Josephine and Douglas counties to condemn my course [illegible] but I am sure they will not [illegible] I shall conclude that [illegible] disapproved my action upon the Pengra bill, to which I have only been opposed because I considered it unfavorable to their interests.

GEO. H. WILLIAMS.

Railroad Aspects

N[illegible] content with having oppos[ed] the r[ai]lr[oa]d interests of southern Oregon for political purposes before the late [illegible] and with having [illegible] hope of [illegible] party [illegible] the [illegible] injury that [illegible] the southern part of the State the Herald keeps on in the course it [illegible] of that ring in the capitalist [illegible] of Portland who [illegible] to [illegible] things to check monopoly [illegible] the true interests of Oregon [illegible] surrendered without striking a blow That paper still [illegible] for a railroad from the Humboldt [illegible] to [illegible] City and professes to think that the only chance southern Oregon has for a railroad is in the passage of the bill to bring the Humboldt branch into the Wallamet valley instead of into the valley of Rogue river where[by] it contends that Mr Holladay would be forced to build his road through to the State line But the exact reverse of this is true as will be seen by the letter from Mr Holladay which which we published yesterday In that letter he distinctly states that if the bill before Congress to grant aid for the Humboldt branch shall pass in such a form as to require that branch to come into Rogue river valley he will build the Oregon and California road to the southern boundary of the State but that if the grant should be made so as to cause the road to come into the Wallamet valley at or near Eugene City he would not think of continuing his road beyond the southern end of the Wallamet valley This then settles that point. The people of southern Oregon will now be able to understand it

The Herald also proceeds to apologize for the capitalists (so-called) of Portland who have allowed the west side road to fall into Mr Holladay's hands It says that this is the inevitable result of the change in the route of the Humboldt road Now the Herald would do well to remember first that the Humboldt bill has not yet become a law and second, that the whole matter stands in precisely the shape it stood when [illegible] a fight was made about it here in the election As the west side managers and those who were professing to back the enterprise thought it well to drag into the election the scheme they were trying to carry through why did they give it up immediately after the election? There was no change against them in the aspect of the case on the contrary the Democrats had carried the Legislature and the defeat of Senator Williams was certain The great point had been gained which they had professed to contend for yet they refused to take hold of and build the west side road And now their organ, through which the political fight was made says apologetically that it was a matter of course that the west side road should fall into Mr Holladay's hands!

The explanation is this Talk is cheap words cost nothing, and it was easy for the capitalists (so called) of Portland to do any amount of "blowing" but when it came to putting up their money they were not the gentlemen the country was looking for It was somebody else

The OREGONIAN has received no new light as to the strength of the monopoly which Mr Holladay has been setting up as the Herald would intimate But we did have a right to expect, in common with all others, that the parties who made the Herald their organ for so fierce an attack on Senator Williams and the Republican party and for so vigorous a defence of the west side road would stand by that road and build it Who could have supposed that men so wealthy so enterprising and so devoted to the interests of the State, would allow that road and its franchises to fall into the hands of the man whom they had caused their organ to denounce as a "foreigner" and a "monopolist" who was seeking to ruin the people of Oregon? Especially after the fact was established that Senator Williams could not be reelected, did we expect them to push forward with their well known spirit and energy build the west side road secure the passage of the bill to bring the Humboldt branch in at Eugene City, checkmate all the schemes of the "monopolist," and finally expel him from Oregon But we have been disappointed and now we are bound to think that they declined to do these things simply because the game was too small and the objects to be gained too trifling for capitalists of their standing to make an effort to achieve

It was not Senator Williams maneuvers as the Herald asserts that enabled Mr Holladay to get control of the west side road. For the chief of these "maneuvers" as that paper calls them (the bill to bring the Humboldt branch into Rogue river valley) is not yet a law and avails nothing The west side franchise was given up to Mr Holladay simply because it was ascertained that he was the only man here who would build the road The movement instituted by Senator Williams to secure a railroad for Southern Oregon is yet incomplete but on its success depends the solution of the railroad problem of Oregon

An official report on the prospects of the wheat crop for 1870 has been issued by the Agricultural Bureau at Washington It is dated June 17 a date late enough to allow a very close estimate of the crop Throughout the United States the area of growing wheat is estimated at about 1 000 000 acres less than that last year and the average yield considerably inferior to last year's crop Still later intelligence from many sections [illegible] the prospects much less favorable than [illegible] in the agricultural report In Illinois Michigan Wisconsin and Minnesota the wheat crop is reported to have suffered greatly during the last three weeks and the yield will certainly be considerably diminished

Mr S Pennoyer a genuine Democrat and a writer who knows how t[o] [illegible] Democratic principles has been in [illegible] of the Herald for a week past, as we learn from that paper. During this time he has published quite a number of simon pure repudiation editorials We did not know to whom the authorship of those articles should be attributed until we saw in the Herald an acknowledgment by the regular editor of Mr Pennoyer's services, together with a tender of thanks for his "excellent articles"

California papers are again protesting against the nuisance of school book dickering. The State Board of Education wants another change of school text books which it is said will cost $[illegible]0 000 to $70,000 Buyers of school books are tired of this sort of thing and newspapers are earnest in denouncing it

Mr J T Heald accepts in a well written letter the Republican nomination for Governor of the State of Delaware.

Senator Williams Letter

We are [illegible] our readers will [illegible] with interest the letter from Senator Williams which [illegible] For fullness and clearness of statement regarding the matter [illegible] in the recent railroad controversy nothing has yet been published that can approach it In truth it covers the [illegible] The leading points of this letter [illegible] Every one who reads it carefully and in a spirit of fair[ness] [illegible] convinced that the [illegible] by Senator Williams is the one [illegible] the whole interests of the State He could well [illegible] safely [illegible] before the people standing on the record [illegible] this matter Had there [illegible] discussion of the subject prior to the election so that the facts in the case could have been brought before the whole people and the entire subject explained in all its phases and bearings the authors of the abusive attack that was [illegible] upon him on account of his action in the affair would have been utterly discomfited The people of Southern Oregon are the [illegible] deeply interested in this matter yet they have placed themselves in an attitude of [illegible] hostility to the measure proposed by Senator Williams in their behalf But this hostility we are satisfied is apparent only Senator Williams [illegible] not [illegible] that they have disapproved of his action on the [illegible] bill because they were not advised of the facts in the case till after the election Those counties hold power enough in the Legislature to secure the election of a Senator favorable to the measure which has been proposed in their interest and they will be most unwise and strangely oblivious of their interests if they do not use that power for their own advantage

Laying a Corner Stone

On Tuesday evening last we witnessed the laying of the corner stone for "The Bishop Scott Grammar School" The site of the future school is on the commanding highland just west of Eighteenth and between D and C streets It contains the equivalent of four blocks including the streets and is altogether a most eligible place for such an institution

Around the spot where the ground had been freshly broken to receive the Corner Stone was gathered from all parts of the city a group of people to behold and participate in the simple but suggestive ceremonies of the occasion As the glowing sun sank behind the green clad western hills in the silence and serenity of the balmy summer eve the services were commenced by the Bishop and congregation reading alternately the following verses of scripture:—

Our help is in the name of the Lord
Who hath made heaven and earth
Blessed be the name of the Lord
From this time forth for ever more
The Stone which the builders rejected
Is become the head of the corner

Then the 20 and 127 Psalms were chanted responsively by the Rev Mr Stoy and the people after which were said the Collects and Lord's prayer when the Bishop proceeded to lay the CORNER STONE in the name of the Holy Trinity

After this Bishop Morris delivered an interesting address upon the purpose and object of the school In passing he paid an eloquent and just tribute to the memory of his predecessor Bishop Scott saying that in the selection of a name for the institution it was deemed meet and right that it should be called for one who had so long and earnestly labored among us to this same end

At the close of the address remarks were made by Rev Mr Stoy Judge Deady and Rev Mr Bonnell The exercises were then closed by the singing of the Doxology and prayer and benediction by the Bishop In addition to the clergy above named the Rev James and John W Sellwood assisted the Bishop in the services

It will probably take from two to three years to complete the buildings and improvements intended to be put up on the ground but it is confidently expected that the south wing of the main building will be ready for use by the first of September It is designed to contain accommodations for the Prof and his family and 75 day scholars and twenty boarders Prof Allen principal of one of the State Normal Schools of Wisconsin has been selected by the Bishop to take charge of the school and will enter upon his duties with the opening of the first term One who knows the Prof well besides being qualified to speak writes that he is a rare teacher and disciplinarian and a gentleman of large experience

The site of the school is a part of the Land Claim of that true hearted and honest pioneer who now sleeps beneath the sod on the further side of the bright Willamette Capt John H Couch More than twenty years ago when Portland was quite if not literally an unbroken forest, the bluff old sailor took final leave of the sea and settled down upon this land to live beloved and die lamented by all who knew him His children in making this magnificent gift—estimated to be worth $8 000—have shown themselves to be the inheritors not only of his estate but of his generosity and public spirit

And so is begun, and well begun an enterprise which we trust shall redound to the glory of its wise and zealous projector Bishop Morris and to the honor and benefit of this community now and to generations unborn D

Mr ... had discovered it at about the same time and ... a considerable ... with a ladder but by the time he reached the house Mr Wicks had mounted the roof and extinguished the fire, without raising any alarm. The fire seemed to have taken from a falling spark from the chimney as no defect in the flue is discoverable. Had the discovery been made but a moment later there would have been another destructive fire to add to ... as the flames were just getting under good headway among the dry shingles

ALMOST ANOTHER FIRE.—About 4 o'clock last evening there was an alarm of fire proceeding from a house on Washington, between Fourth and Fifth streets. The fire caught from a spark dropping from the chimney among the moss on the roof. Not much damage was done but the second occurrence of the kind yesterday suggests the necessity of extra precaution during the present excessively dry spell. Would it not be worth while for people to clear their roofs of moss.

TO SAIL.—The bark Whistler Simpson, Master will leave this morning for the lower river landings, to complete her cargo. She takes from this port about 350 tons of general produce.

OREGON

A very heavy business is reported at Salem in agricultural machinery

Southern Oregon papers report considerable injury to the hay crop from recent rains

Frank Strong, of Salem, is to take charge of the telegraph at the southern end of the railroad

The railroad grade will be fully finished as far as Salem in a few days. The work of driving piles for the road across Lake Labish is soon to commence.

It is stated that the schooner Bobolink arrived at the mouth of the Umpqua a few days ago with two cases of small pox on board. She is now lying there in quarantine

The Jacksonville Sentinel says that things generally in Josephine county are in a flourishing condition and "really good women are more in demand than any other article"

Col Chapman is announced to speak on the subject of railroads at Jacksonville on Saturday the 16th inst. Probably no one in Oregon has made our railroad system the subject of such long and careful study as Col Chapman

It is stated that the Democratic county candidates in Yamhill are preparing two contests. Two candidates on the Republican ticket who were defeated are preparing to contest also. So the election in Yamhill is in a fair way to be well ventilated

The Fourth was celebrated at Salem in a hearty style. The oration was delivered by J F Caples, Esq of this city and is spoken of as a production of unusual interest and merit. Not only was the audience highly pleased with the matter of the address but were even surprised at the display of oratorical power displayed by the speaker

Says the Roseburg Ensign: The OREGONIAN of the 25th gives what purports to be the official vote of Douglas county, by which it appears that Applegate has a majority over Caldwell for Representative. The same paper copies from the Statesman the statement that Judge Kelsay has 27 majority over Thayer in this District. These are both mistakes—would they were not.

The Roseburg Ensign has the following under caption of "Marriage Extraordinary": "We publish to day a notice of the marriage of L T Thompson to his wife which was duly solemnized by Justice Van Orman, on the 15th ultimo. This couple were married at sea two or three years ago in order to avoid the jurisdiction of the laws of this State the bride being under eighteen years of age and her parents refusing their consent to the marriage. Since that time they have been living happily together as they and everybody supposed in lawful wedlock not forgetting the scriptural injunction 'be fruitful and multiply,' etc. But a recent decision of Judge Deady, pronouncing a marriage solemnized under similar circumstances to be an evasion of the law and void awakened doubts as to the validity of the former marriage and led the parties to have the contract re-solemnized in accordance with the requirements of the laws of this State

Francis B Cutting of New York is named amongst the dead and adds another to the list of a generation of public men which is fast passing away. Mr Cutting was a member of the New York State Legislature in 1836 37 and of Congress in 1853 55. During a discussion of the Kansas Nebraska bill he became involved in a difficulty with Breckinridge which like the Burlingame Brooks affair proved that Northern men could fight. Mr Cutting did a better and more statesman like service to his country in securing the statute of 1855 under which the citizenship of children of Americans born abroad is preserved. He was reputed an able lawyer, but of late years has taken very little part in public affairs

During the past month in the various engagements between whites and Indians in Arizona the former lost twelve men and the redskins eighty. Governor Safford has had a talk with a band of two thousand Apaches who say they will bury the hatchet. That is often said by Indians when cornered

Col Williamson called on the way at Cape Mendocino and Humboldt Bay and went from that point to Blanco overland. Three Requisites of Health.

If all the sickly people in the world were to take to their beds and demand medical treatment, there would not be doctors enough to attend them nor a sufficient number of the robust to nurse them. Three conditions are absolutely essential to health viz a good appetite easy digestion and the ability to sleep soundly. Seven eighths of the many thousands who suffer from indisposition yet do not labor under serious disease complain that they can't eat that their stomachs are out of order or that they don't sleep well. For this class of ailments few persons think of calling in a physician. Nor is it necessary. Inasmuch as a course of Hostetter's Bitters will certainly relieve the derangements of the stomach the liver and the nervous system from which want of appetite indigestion and sleeplessness arise. This excellent vegetable tonic and corrective is also a delightful anodyne. Insomnia (or incapacity to sleep) which has resisted all the ordinary remedies will yield readily to this pleasant sedative taken just before retiring to rest. In ordinary medical practice it is usual to give a stomachic an aperient an invigorant a soporific, and an antiseptic as the case for the time being may seem more particularly to require but in this grand restorative all those medicinal properties and many others are blended in due proportion. Thus the digestion is stimulated while the bowels are regulated the liver toned the tired ... recruited the nerves calmed the fluids purified and the circulation equalized. ... [illegible] ... health and enjoyment ... It is confidently recommended as a specific

Change of Water.—Persons accustomed to the spring and well water of the North cannot safely drink the water of our Southern and Western States in an unqualified state without imminent peril to their health. A mere change of water under the most favorable circumstances will tend to disorder in some degree the digestive organs. The best known safeguard against the unpleasant and often dangerous effects ... is PLANTATION BITTERS. At the same time it is the ... tonic and appetizer in the world

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Hand in hand, by the garden gate
T[illegible] little eager children wait
Looking across the [illegible]
Across the billows of rustling grain
To watch the day in her splendor dressed
Die slowly out of the gleaming west

Over their shoulders brown and bare,
Floats a tangle of sunny hair
All the wealth of tawny gold
Once into shining curls were rolled
Tossed by the summer winds about,
Caught by the brambles tall and stout

They have been up on the hills at play
Where the brier roses bloom to-day
Hunting the pastures green and low
For the beds where the sweet wild strawberries grow
W[illegible] under the alders cool
Where the silvery minnows light up the pool

Into their eyes the level sun
Shines, for its course is almost done
Touching their brows and tangled hair
With a glory a pictured saint might wear
And I almost deem that their eager eyes
Are looking away into Paradise

Slowly out of the gleaming west
Dies the day in her splendor dressed
Cloudy castle and gates of light
Fade to the dusky hues of night
But the children's faces grow more fair
As they bend by their mother's knee in prayer

The Administration a Success

[From the New York Tribune, June 20.]

Gen. Grant's career as President is vehemently denounced as a failure by such representatives of different opinions and constituencies as The World and The Sun. The one denounces him because, whereas he once seemed to have few affiliations with professional politicians, he is now on the best of terms with them; because he shows capacity to forget personal grudges in desire to do his duty and thus maintains cordial relations with old antagonists like Gen Butler; because he is not, as it avers, a brilliant President (like Pierce or Buchanan we suppose); is not ambitious to enforce a policy of his own, but is most ready, waiving his own opinions when necessary, to accept and execute the will of the people as expressed through Congress. The Sun is even more vehement but less explicit. It denounces him (after claiming that but for its Editor he would never have been Commander-in-Chief or President) because he takes occasional seasons of relaxation from the cares of office; because he does not always select noted politicians for the offices; because he will not adopt a high tone with effete and bankrupt Spain; because he has appointed to office men once engaged in rebellion; and in general, because, as it alleges, he is lazy and incompetent.

With the personal matters which in one of these cases, that of Mr Dana, are openly discussed in connection with this judgment we have nothing to do. With the judgment itself we propose briefly to deal. We do not regard Gen. Grant's administration as a failure. We do regard it as a very safe and substantial success, and we do not for one moment doubt that, outside the narrow but noisy limits of political disappointments and aspirations, the sober, well-considered judgment of the country sincerely and heartily renders the same verdict. We remember that there was a time when Mr. Lincoln was denounced in terms almost identical with those now used in denunciation of Gen Grant. He was accused of lack of brilliancy. He was declared to be no politician. He was said to cling to political nobodies, like Bates and Usher and Welles, to ignore the live, powerful men of the party, like Chase and Cameron and Butler. He was without pluck, allowing the country to be bullied by Great Britain with her privateers, and by France and her Mexican expedition. He sought relaxation from the cares of office, and even indulged in the enormity of telling stories while the Republic was in the throes of a struggle for its existence. Yet, in spite of envenomed assault on these and many like scores he was renominated without a count. Then was seen how trivial and inconsequential was all this noisy [illegible] opposition. It was found that, since Jackson, no man had so reached the popular heart. Assailed in committee rooms he was applauded in town-meetings. Distrusted in caucuses, he was enthusiastically followed by the plain yeomanry of the country. The men who cast the votes believed in him to their hearts' core, and his second race for the Presidency was no race at all, but a triumphal procession. It is too soon to say that Gen. Grant's popularity will to the end abide the same tests,—it is not too soon to say that it now seems of like character. The plain people believe in him, as they believed in Lincoln. They consider his administration as they considered Lincoln's, a success. And they are right. For Grant's Administration is collecting the revenue, economizing the expenditures, and paying the debt. When Gen. Grant was inaugurated the National Debt was $2,738,803,598. At the end of his first year it was $2,751,668,-795, and since then it has been steadily reduced in ever increasing ratio. Yet the taxes have not been increased. On the contrary, special taxes have been largely reduced, imposts have been removed, the burdens have been more and more lifted from productive industry, and at this very moment, in accordance with Gen. Grant's earnest desire, a modified Tax and Tariff bill is before the Senate, having already passed the House, which takes off at a single stroke 65 millions more. Yet the revenue increases. What, under Johnson, went into the pockets of thieves goes, under Grant, into the coffers of the Treasury, and its amount is deducted from the annual taxation.

Grant's Administration, though that of the most successful and renowned Soldier of his age, is earnestly seeking peace with all nations and avoiding entangling alliances. We have not always been able to agree with some details of his foreign policy, but this is its net result. Personally a known devotee of the doctrine of Manifest Destiny, Gen Grant has shown so scrupulous a regard for the rights of our weaker neighbors that the suspicious Mexicans have ceased to disturb him and the critical and unfriendly British Cabinet and press are forced to accord to him reluctant praise. If he has not done all things as in Cuba as we would wish them, we are bound at least to recognize the fact that he has preserved our burdened people from war, protected our crippled commerce from depredation and made energetic diplomatic efforts for the protection of American citizens in insurrectionary regions.

Grant's Administration has kept the peace on the frontier. We have been threatened with an Indian war that under former management would have swallowed up hundreds of millions. With a Soldier at the head of the Government, we might have looked for the logic of the bayonet, in the interpretation of Indian treaties, protection of the advancing railroads, and opening up of the Indian country. Instead we have had an Indian placed at the head of the Bureau, controlling the relations of the Government with his people, Quakers selected for Indian agents, the wishes of Sherman and Sheridan held in check and Spotted Tail and Red Cloud brought peacefully to Washington at the moment when their barbarous hordes seemed ready to raise the war whoop and ply the scalping-knife along hundreds of miles of our exposed settlements. We reckon the economy of Grant's Quaker policy, not less than the economy wrought by an honest collection of our revenue.

Grant's Administration has secured the triumph of Equal Rights. For the passage of the XVth Amendment we owe him grateful thanks. Against him it might possibly have been carried, with his earnest, cordial and efficient co-operation it was certainly attained more speedily and without a serious struggle. In this and in all other leading measures, he has been most true to the principles of the party that elected him—has lent his most faithful and powerful aid to secure their triumph, and has honestly administered his great office in their light. He has utterly disappointed the Democratic prediction that he would betray the Republicans, and hence their wrath. He has most cheerfully co-operated with Congress, has never hesitated to advance opinions of his own that has differed from those of Congress, and has never delayed heartily to execute the will of the people, when once expressed through its voice. With most decided wishes and policy of its own on many points, there never was an Administration with less pride of opinion or more grace in yielding to the popular verdict as uttered by the representatives of the people.

Grant's Administration recognizes the whole people. It is no rule of the army over a conquered foe. Every effort is made to obliterate the bitterness, to win back our late foes to that hearty support of the Government essential to our National safety and prosperity, [illegible] to make this again in reality [illegible] people. In this spirit have been many past acts of the President, in this spirit now is [illegible]

But we will not continue the recital. How poor and beggarly beside these things seems the complaint that the President does not take [illegible] We [illegible] Grant as a great Statesman. We have presented him to the people as a sound and safe [illegible]. We point to his record with [illegible] satisfaction and [illegible] sure that the country will unite with us in pronouncing him a sound and safe [illegible] still.

The Darien Surveying Expedition

INCIDENTS OF THE SURVEY—A POINT TWENTY MILES INLAND REACHED—DISCONTENT AND SUFFERING AMONG THE MEN

By the arrival of an Aspinwall [illegible] steamer Merrimac (via St Thomas) we have advices from the Darien Surveying Expedition to May 30th. The weather had continued extremely unfavorable for the surveying parties. The rains were of daily occurrence and very heavy, swelling the streams to torrents. In consequence of the heavy fall of water it had been difficult to keep the working parties at the front supplied with provisions.

On May 27th active preparations were going forward on board the Nyack and the Guard for return to New York. On the 28th the commander of the expedition changed his plans and it is now believed he will continue his survey until one of the surveying parties shall have crossed the dividing ridge and communicated with the surveyor from the Nyack on the Pacific side. A letter was received on the 28th from the commander of the Nyack stating that his party were some distance up the Ryauo River, the course of which they expected to leave shortly to ascend the Marmonia River. The aim of Capt Selfridge is to reach the Marmonia from this side and descend the stream, meeting the party from the Nyack. The Nipsic was to leave for Aspinwall on the 31st, it being Selfridge's intention to pay a visit to the Nyack's [illegible] Panama Railroad.

According to the latest advices Lieut Hubbard's party had surveyed 20 miles from the beach, at which distance the highest [illegible] was found was 809 feet, the elevation of the river's bed being 295 feet. The surrounding country was very rugged and difficult. Donkey transportation had been abandoned, and provisions for the working party were carried forward in small quantities by the men. On the 29th of May Capt Selfridge ordered Messrs Moser and Bowdich to take one [illegible] with plenty of provisions for the party, go to the head of Lieut Hubbard's line, and from thence strike a S. S. E. course and endeavor to reach the San Jose Marmonia, or other river on that line flowing toward the Pacific Ocean. They were to have a pace traverse of the route and Lieut Hubbard was to follow as fast as possible with compass and level.

On the 30th orders were issued that Lieut Hitchcock, Lieut Goodrel and six men fully provisioned leave the beach early on the following morning to relieve Lieut Hubbard and party, the latter to return to the beach at once, and, taking a S. S. E. course, to make for the San Jose or Mormonia River, thence to proceed, if deemed prudent, to the Pacific Ocean, or until the party from the Nyack is encountered. No orders had been issued recalling Messrs Moser and Bowdich.

The general health of the expedition was fair, no sickness having appeared except fever and ague. The men, however, were exceedingly dissatisfied with Capt Selfridge's determination to prolong their stay on the Isthmus. Five men have deserted from the Guard and more would go if they had opportunity. Officers and men complain that their endurance has now been taxed to the utmost, and that longer stay in such a climate will be dangerous.

Most of the men have worn out all their clothes and shoes, and the officers are in little better condition. There are not half a dozen pairs of shoes in the Darien or ships' stores. The men are deeply in debt, having worn out more clothes on the expedition than would be required for a three years' cruise. The pay and allowances are not greater than when on a cruise, and unless relief is offered by the Government to the expedition it is felt that it will be a costly one to those engaged in it.

Butler's Amnesty Bill

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The bill reported, to-day, by Mr Butler of Massachusetts, from the Committee on Reconstruction, provides for full and general grace, amnesty, and oblivion of certain wrongful acts, doings, or omissions of all persons engaged in the war of the late rebellion, perpetrated, incurred or forfeited between the 11th day of April, 1861, and the 20th day of August, 1866, with full restoration of all rights and privileges lost or injured thereby and therein. The following classes of persons, and the rights, titles and causes of action, are excepted from the provisions of this act, and none other: First, Those educated at the Military Academy at West Point, or the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Second, Members of either Houses of Congress of the so-called Confederate Congress. Third, Whoever held office as head of one of the executive departments of the United States, Minister plenipotentiary or Minister resident or Judge of any court under the United States, whoever held either of like offices in the Confederate States. Fourth, Whoever voted for or signed any ordinance of secession, or held office as Governor of a State while the same was in rebellion. Fifth, Whoever, while in the service of the so called Confederate States, treated with cruelty or otherwise than according to usages of war any prisoner of war. Sixth, Whoever, having charge of public moneys of the United States, has not duly accounted for and paid over the same, and whoever embezzled or secreted public stores, public goods, chattels, moneys, provisions or military and naval property of the United States. Seventh, All deserters from the army or navy and bounty jumpers. Eighth, All property and rights of property acquired by any levy, judgment or extent made and executed upon any lands or tenements, goods, chattels, or other valuable thing whatever, and any sale or forfeiture by confiscation or taxation, whereby any rights or titles have become vested either in the United States or in third persons. Ninth, Every piece and parcel of land, however it may be described and bounded, which now is or has been used as a National cemetery in which bodies of soldiers of the United States are interred, or which is in occupation by the United States for purposes of cemetery, which parcels of land are hereby declared the property of the United States in fee by capture in war and forever dedicated to the uses and purposes of cemeteries for soldiers of the United States and to be under the sole jurisdiction of the United States, inalienable forever. Provided, nothing herein contained shall affect or impair the validity of any act of Congress removing the political disabilities of any person herein exempted from the effects of the provisions of this act. This shall extend to all acts or omissions by any officer or soldier, or other agent of the United States in carrying out the laws of the United States known as the Reconstruction act and other acts for the government of the rebellious States.

It is pretty clear, says the San Francisco Bulletin, that the cost of making a safe harbor at Midway Island, on the Japan route, will not be less than a million dollars, and then the [illegible] certainty that steamers will use the harbor. Latest accounts show that the appropriation by Congress will go little farther than defraying the cost of experiments demonstrating the possibility of making a harbor at some future day. Then the fact is brought to light that the inner harbor to be reached by cutting through a coral reef is dotted all over with coral knobs which must be blasted away before a steamer can venture in with safety. According to the latest accounts there is a pretty large coral elephant at Midway Island, and when once secured it is doubtful if it can be turned to any practical account.

Gov Stevenson, of Kentucky, has published another card in reference to the curious quarrel between him and other Democratic politicians of that State. He says that he will not fight a duel; that for more than thirty years he has been a professor of the Christian religion; that he is now Chief Magistrate of the State; and that nothing can induce him to stab Christianity or trample upon the majesty of the public laws which he is sworn to uphold.

CARD.

Having given the New Patent Shaft Coupling [illegible] invented by H. B. Hoagland, we take pleasure in informing the public that it is in our opinion the safest [illegible] shafts [illegible] that has ever been used.

It [illegible] and therefore easily [illegible] to be entirely free from the rattling [illegible] disturbs restive horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts [illegible] detached in an instant and [illegible].

It is easy to change this style for [illegible] any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention [illegible] We consider this superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc., Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are dragging out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors whose only abilities [illegible] publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days [illegible] upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from European and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emission is the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves, and [illegible] of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of [illegible] He [illegible] is failing of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was procured [illegible] either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay [illegible] in a [illegible].

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with bogus [illegible] certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their [illegible] [illegible] Look at the Directory for 186[illegible] and 1868 [illegible] to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets. [illegible] advertising physicians [illegible] exhibiting [illegible] letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy [illegible] who may call at his [illegible] cure.

Address DR J F GIBBON, 623 Kearny street, or near Commercial, [illegible] San Francisco. Post Office Box [illegible]
